Finding and Formatting Sources

1. Explanation: The in-text citation corresponds with the end-of-text citation. All end-of-text citations appear in the References list on a page at the end of your document. In this document, you can see examples of five types of citations. Below each citation is the general format for that example. The colors show you the related parts.

2. Remember: If you have an in-text citation, you must have a corresponding end-of-text citation in the References list.

3. Hint: You can find more information about different types of in-text citations at the OWL Online Writing Lab website: https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/560/03/

4. Hint: You can find the basic rules for building reference lists at the OWL Online Writing Lab website: https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/560/05/

5. Hint: You can find the information about plagiarism at the OWL Online Writing Lab website: https://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/958/01/

---

Online Report with No Author Identified

[Organization/Publisher of website. (Date). Title of specific page in the website. Retrieved date of retrieval, from URL of the webpage]

Note: This is an example of citing multiple pages within a single website (see 2014a and 2014b) in the Sample Essay_ APA6 citation color map document.
Journal article with DOI

Online Newspaper Article

[Author, A. A. (Year, Month Day). Title of article. Title of newspaper. Retrieved from URL of the source]

Journal article without DOI

Non-profit website

[Website title. (Year). Title of article. Retrieved from URL of the source]

[Continue to the next page]
References

